

Supported iWave Adapters

With over 50 out-of-the-box iWave Adapters available, iWave Software leads the market in delivering high-performance process automation and orchestration with leading Data Center products. Each Adapter employs an ITIL-based common data model to simplify the sharing of incident, problem, change, event, asset configuration, storage, provisioning and CMDB information between disparate third-party applications, IT processes and data sources. iWave's Universal Adapters provide a code-free, wizard-driven method to quickly integrate with unsupported, in-house applications and encapsulate administration scripts.

Customer Quote:

"iWave allowed us to complete a multi-directional integration in less than one day. Without the use of iWave and their expert team, this type of integration would have required weeks, if not months to complete."
